

Scholarship Foundation to Recognize Founder Possible Woman Foundation International to recognize founder, Linda Wind, at first Founders Luncheon

The board of the Possible Woman Foundation International (PWFI) will recognize the organization's founder, Linda Wind, at its first Founder's Luncheon. The luncheon will be held on November 5, 2009 at twelve noon at the Atlanta Country Club. Wind is President and CEO of Wind Enterprises which conducts leadership development conferences including the annual Possible Woman Leadership Conference.*

"Starting a foundation is a true labor of love," says PWFI board co-chair, Myra McElhane. "When you start a foundation, you begin with a great vision and design an organization to grow way beyond your own reach. In the beginning Linda had a vision and was the driving force behind it. She was involved in every aspect of the organization including obtaining the 501(c) 3 status, administrative duties, enlisting board members, establishing scholarship criteria and processes, marketing and fundraising. She was the visionary, founding chair, chief fundraiser and chief volunteer. That took a lot of passion, drive and just plain hard work."

"Now as the next generation of board members, we want to honor what Linda and the founding board members contributed," says Kathy Leggett Eldridge, PWFI Treasurer and chair-elect. "It's important that we stay true to the original vision as we grow PWFI into a sustainable, strategy-driven organization that will benefit women even beyond our lifetimes."

Since 2001, Possible Woman Foundation International, a 501(c) 3, has provided more than $100,000 in academic scholarships to women in need enabling them to return to school and eventually to the workforce. PWFI gives women a second chance—a chance to get the education they need to fulfill their dreams.

Also being honored at the luncheon will be founding board members Dr. Marjorie Barlow, Mary Jane Bills, Denise Billups, Nancy Frenkel, Susan Hitchcock, Patricia Koehn, Barbara Rose and Dr. Betty Siegel. Distinguished guest, Emily Grigsby will be recognized for her generous support of the organization.

The Possible Woman Foundation International and Wind Enterprises which conducts the Possible Woman Leadership Conferences are separate entities. PWFI is a 501(c) 3 non-profit foundation that gives scholarships to women.*
